ALWAYS A STRUGGLE:
MEXICANOS IN MIAMI, ARIZONA IN THE EARLY 20TH CENTURY

Special Guest Speaker: Cuyamaca College President, Dr. Julianna Barnes

Dr. Barnes' talk will draw upon research and familial accounts of the Mexicano/a and Mexican American union experience in a copper mining town located about 90 miles east of Phoenix, Arizona. Her great-grandfather was an active unionist and was alleged to have been murdered by the Sheriff as a result of his union activities.

Come hear her family's story and how, despite the racism, segregation, and discrimination they encountered, these workers persevered and fought to claim their rights as Americans and to attain their dream of success and education.
